VANCOUVER, July 19, 2018 /CNW/ - Rokmaster Resources Corp. (the "Company") is pleased to announce that its prospectors have discovered a new zinc occurrence approximately 1.5 kilometers north of the No. 2 Zone and 7.5 kilometers south of the Jubilee Point drill target area, along the Duncan Anticline structure. Samples of float rubble and sub-outcrop of dolomite and limestones containing visible sulphide mineralization with sphalerite (a zinc sulphide mineral) have been shipped to an analytical laboratory for assay. The discovery reinforces the prospectivity of the area for discovery of easily accessible and shallow zinc mineralization. Work currently in progress in the area includes hand trenching to expose mineralization in outcrop in two occurrences 125 meters apart, soil sampling, prospecting, rock sampling, and geological mapping.
